

Baltimore, MD

Crime Rates per 1,000 Residents and Urban Tree Canopy Losses (2015)

This map displays the neighborhoods with the highest and lowest crime rates per 1,000 residents in 2015, along with the percentage of area covered by tree canopy. The citywide average of tree canopy cover was 23.7%, while the average crime rate was 17.16 per 1,000 residents. The highest crime areas had average crime rates of 37.81 per 1,000 residents and average canopy cover of 11.11%, whereas the lowest crime areas had average crime rates of 3.68 per 1,000 residents and average canopy cover of 37.67.

Brian Horlick-Cruz
Data sourced from:
<https://portal.edirepository.org/nis/mapbrowse?packageid=knb-lter-bes.3210.110>
https://vital-signs-bniajfi.hub.arcgis.com/datasets/56d5b4e5480049e98315c2732aa48437_0
https://vital-signs-bniajfi.hub.arcgis.com/datasets/ab03385abf3b4f50aec0b090caa8877a_0